Welcome New IARP Members

IARP Connect Updated to Improve Member Experience

Over the last month, several exciting updates have been made on IARP Connect, the members-only area of the IARP Web site. The most significant change involves the overall organization of the site and specifically the introduction of new navigation.

The screenshot shows the IARP Connect website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'IARP Main Site' and 'Contact Us'. Below this is a user profile section for 'Bob' with options for 'Profile', 'Communities', and 'Logout', and a 'Complete your profile' button. A search bar is located on the right. The main content area is divided into several sections: 'Volunteer Opportunities' with links for 'Content Curators' and 'Accepting New Volunteers'; 'Most Recommended Discussions' featuring a post by Steven Shedlin titled 'Even if you don't tweet...'; 'Getting Started' with a list of four steps for new users; 'Free Ethics Webinar' with a video player and a 'Click to access this Free Webinar' link; and 'See You in San Juan!' with a promotional banner for the 2012 International Conference.

Changes to the navigation are designed to make it easier and more intuitive for members to find what they are looking for. Here is a quick overview:

Communities – Every section, every chapter and every committee now have their own mini-community on IARP Connect. Each community features a discussion group, resource library, blogging area, and directory of community members.

Participate – All the ways that you can participate (Post a Message, Share a Resource, Join Community, Write a Blog) are found in one location now.

Browse and Find – With more than 10,000 discussion posts and hundreds of valuable resources on IARP Connect, this new area makes it much easier to find what you need.

My Stuff – Here is where you will find all of your stuff, including your profile, your privacy setting, your discussion subscriptions and any content you have contributed.

Early Bird Discount Offers Spur 2012 IARP International Conference Registration

We are happy to report that we have exceeded 300 attendee registrations so far with new attendees joining every day. This healthy turnout seems to be driven by several factors including the great location, and comprehensive program the conference committee has put together, along with the various incentives that were provided to attendees who registered before August 27th.

Attendees Who Have Booked Rooms, But Not Yet Registered, What Are You Waiting For?

If you have booked a room at the Caribe, but have not registered, we kindly ask that you do one of two things; either register for the conference today, or please cancel your room reservation so that registered attendees can get into IARP's room block. Thank you!

International Conference Offers an In-depth Pre-Con Workshop on Life Care Planning (LCP) Basics

Life Care Planning - The Basics: Does It Fit into Your Future?

IARP members hail from a variety of clinical backgrounds. Most are exposed to LCP in their practice while working with individuals with disability. Kathie Allison and Karen Preston will present an all-day workshop (Thursday October 25th) giving the participant a baseline to critically evaluate LCPs and to see if LCP fit their future practice plan.

At the conclusion of the program, participants will be able to:

- > Identify standards of life care planning
- > List areas of care consideration for the development of a life care plan
- > Identify the process of obtaining costs for services identified in the life care plan

In addition to the introduction of a simplified navigation structure, we have also added a new Recommend feature that will help to better identify the best and most useful content on IARP Connect. When you see a discussion post, resource item or blog post that you think has valuable content, just click on the Recommend icon (see screen shot). With more than 10,000 pieces of content on IARP Connect (a number which grows everyday), it is important that everyone begin to use the Recommend feature as it will help to "make the cream rise to the top".

Opportunities for Vocational Experts: Tips and Techniques to Expand Your Practice

Date: Thursday, September 27, 2012

7 am Hawaii, 9 am Pacific, 10 am Mountain, 11 am Central, 12 pm Eastern

Speaker: Steven Shedlin, MeD, CRC, Rehabilitation Experts of Maryland

2.0 CEUs Applied for: CRCC, CDMS, CVE, CWA, CCAA, ABVE, CLCP, MSCC, CCMC

Individuals who already understand what Vocational Experts do, will now learn different settings in which they can apply their skills. This will increase business opportunities for attendees as they learn of new opportunities in which they can serve as Vocational Experts, as well as ways in which they can adapt their skills to deal with the nuances that occur in different types of litigation.

Educational Objectives:

At the completion of this presentation, participants will be able to:

1. Identify different types of matters in which a VE can provide service
2. Demonstrate cases in which disability is not an issue, but that are still applicable for VE's to provide service
3. Identify the skill set that they already possess, or need to learn, in order to deal with the nuances inherent in working on different types of litigated matters.

About the Presenter:

Steven Shedlin has worked as a vocational expert since the mid 1980's. He has been qualified as a VE in several hundred matters pending in state circuit courts and district federal courts throughout the United States. Shedlin has testified in matters related to medical malpractice, other personal injury torts, divorce, alleged employment discrimination, FELA, lead exposure, mold exposure, workers compensation appeals, product liability and other areas. Shedlin is the current president of IARP. He has served on the board of directors for three years. He is a past president of NARPPS and of the IARP Chesapeake chapter.

Calling All Volunteers

IARP realizes the strength and vitality of the association is powered by the volunteer spirit that resides within IARP members. To help organize and harness this volunteer spirit, IARP is introducing a new feature to IARP Connect – it's called Volunteer Central.

Volunteer

Welcome to the Volunteer Town Square where you can volunteer for projects that fit your interests, expertise and schedule. The process is easy!

- First, peruse the list of projects in the "Volunteer Opportunities" list below. You can also use the search filters to find the ones that suite you. To find out more about a specific project, click on the individual project where you will see more detailed information about each project.
- When you are ready to volunteer, click on the specific project you are interested in and click the words "Sign Up".
- Have fun working on your project. Simple as that.

Come back often to learn about new volunteer opportunities!

Free Ethics Webinar Available Now

In late November, IARP produced a free Ethics webinar entitled Technology Ethics: Basics, Clinical Application, and Decision-Making.

Mary Barros-Bailey and Vilia Tarvydas led this 2-hour webinar, which received rave reviews.

The On-Demand Replay of this webinar is now available for all members to view. Just click on this link, register, and you will immediately receive a link to watch the replay. CEUs are also available.
